1. Education [brief interview with Sarah Neller]

- Parents, children, teachers, and support staff as some children have returned to school.
- Physical safety and emotional wellbeing of students and staff.
- Those children who cannot return to school until September at the earliest.
- Parents struggling with schooling at home, especially those also working from home.
- For all concerned with determining grades for GCSE and A-level students.

2. Seniors [brief interview with Carrie Britton]

- Thanks for God's faithfulness and safekeeping of those volunteers and essential workers who have served so many during Covid-19.
- People feeling fearful, lonely or struggling with illness, isolation, or feeling low.
- For God to bring comfort and peace for those who have been bereaved.
- Pray that the Holy Spirit would lead many Seniors to new or reaffirmed faith in Jesus.

3. Mission [interview with Milsons]

- Mission Partners Julian & Nicky Milson, with Jemima & Theo, working with Crosslinks.
- For a 'missionary mindset' in our everyday lives.
- Those watching online services who have little or no previous contact with All Saints.
- For the Churchwardens and PCC beginning the process of appointing a new leader of mission in Lindfield.
- Wisdom in planning for a return to the church building.

4. Healthcare [no interview]

- Ongoing physical stamina and emotional resilience for health and social care providers continuing to deal with the virus
- Continued search for a vaccine for Covid-19.
- Staff and residents of our care homes, staff at Lindfield Medical Centre and Princess Royal.
- For capacity and compassion in dealing with mental health issues arising from this crisis.

5. Workforce [brief interview with Si Head]

- The nine million people on the government's Furlough Scheme – those still at home, and those returning to work.
- For workers and their families who have lost their jobs, or had hours much-reduced.
- Wisdom for owners and customers as shops and businesses begin to reopen.
- Workers in industries hit hardest from the lockdown, including entertainment, hospitality and travel & tourism.
